

School of Management

Management Undergraduate Program

Szu-yu Chen

Graduation Year: 2014

Current: University of Nottingham, PhD student

City: Nottingham, UK

“Looking back, I would say that the four years at NTUST were a wonderful experience. Awesome friends and teachers are two irreplaceable gifts for me!”

It was an incredible journey to study at NTUST MUP: From my freshman time, when I was still quite confused about management studies, to my senior year when I decided to apply for a graduate school abroad, those four years were not just about getting a degree, but laid the foundation for my master's studies, my first job, and now my doctoral research.

One of the advantages of the MUP is its flexibility, as one can easily opt for a double major or combine the MUP with minors. My major was Business Administration but I also chose Finance as a minor which turned out to be beneficial for me. One of the modules, "Corporate Governance" had a big impact on future my work and research. NTUST also provided the opportunity to join an exchange program in Germany which led to my decision to return to Europe for my postgraduate education.

After graduating from NTUST, I earned my master degree in Finance and Accounting at Warwick Business School in the UK. Afterwards, I was working as a research analyst at TEJ, a financial database company in Taiwan, and preparing my Ph.D. proposal at the same time. I successfully applied for a Taiwan government scholarship, and I am now studying in a doctorate program in Business at University of Nottingham. Looking back, I would say that the four years at NTUST were a wonderful experience. Awesome friends and teachers are two irreplaceable gifts for me!